Rev. Harriet E. Williams.
Rev. Harriet E. Williams, pastor of the Congregational church at Lone Rock, Wis., has personally gone from house to house throughout the village, visiting all the merchants and saloon keepers, and has secured signatures for a measure prohibiting the sale or gift of cigarettes to minors. This petition was presented to the town board and carried. In addition to driving 14 miles each Sunday she preaches three sermons, conducts two Bible classes and is always at the Endeavor meeting. Since Mrs. Williams began work with this church the Sunday school attendance has increased from 25 to 60, and church attendance has doubled. — Woman's Journal.

Trying Again.
The South Dakota legislature has voted by a great majority to submit a constitutional amendment. About five years ago a similar amendment was submitted to the South Dakota legislature and beaten. The South Dakota women are eager to try again. Perhaps they remember that in 1894 the women suffrage amendment was defeated by only 4,000 votes when it was first submitted for the second time. — Woman's Journal.

He Would Like to Know.
"I hate to tell you, papa, but really I'd like to know."
"Well, what?"
"How it happens that baby fish don't get drowned before they've learned to swim!"

The skeleton in many a household is the peculiar weakness of the wife and mother, or of the wife who ought to be a mother and is not. Happiness is destroyed by the presence of the secret sickness that may lurk like a grinning death among the most luxurious homes. The most terrible thing about this condition of affairs is that it is entirely needless. There is no reason in the world why every woman in the world should not be strong and healthy and capable of fulfilling her whole duty as a wife and mother. Many women go on month after month, and year after year, becoming weaker and weaker, because of a very natural hesitancy they feel in consulting a physician. They know that if they go to a doctor for treatment, the first thing he will insist on will be "examination" and "local treatment." This must of course be distasteful to every modest woman. They are generally as unnecessary as they are abhorrent. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures positively, perfectly, permanently, all varieties of "female weakness" and disease. It is designed to do this one thing, and it does it. It is the only medicine now before the public for her delicate organization, adapted to her delicate organization, by a regularly graduated physician—experienced and skilled specialist in these maladies. It cannot do harm in any condition of the system. Its sales exceed the combined sales of all other medicines for women.

Every woman will be healthier and happier by following the friendly, practical, and reliable counsel contained in Dr. Pierce's great universal doctor book: "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." It is the most comprehensive medical work in one volume in the English language. It contains 600,000 copies, fully illustrated, 600,000 copies each bound in cloth, at $1.50 each, now used in printing half-million free copies bound in strong manilla paper covers. To get one you have only to send a one-cent stamp (to pay cost of mailing only), to World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 63 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y. Send promptly before all are given away if in want of one. They are going off rapidly.

WOMAN'S WORLD.
SUCCESS ACHIEVED BY A YOUNG SONG WRITER AND COMPOSER.

Advantages of Spinster Homes—Defeated by the Women—Woman Protecting Woman—Taxation and the Suffrage—A Place For Dress Waists.

Myra Angur Chisholm, the young composer, who has within a few months sprung into such prominence, is a Chicago girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Chisholm. The father, James Chisholm, one of the oldest of Chicago journalists, has held positions on all of the leading papers of the city. He is a graceful writer, with strong poetic and artistic instincts.

A story is told which indicates his tendencies. He had been induced to join a party of gentlemen and ladies to witness the races. The grand stand was crowded and enthusiastic, but Chisholm was watching the clouds, which had a beautiful appearance. When the horses were coming home, the crowd cheered and cheered, but he was still gazing. His wife, much excited over the race, grasped his arm and said, "Wasn't it grand, Jim?" "Yes," he replied calmly, "the glinting of the sun on those great rolling masses of white and black clouds makes the most gorgeous of spectacles. Gorgeous rather than grand."

Mrs. Chisholm has written much for the press and was considered one of the best art critics in Chicago.

The only daughter, Myra, has had no special musical training, and therefore is not a composer "to the manner born." Her tunes and melodies are hummed and then played on the piano and changed until they suit her fancy. Then she plays the air, and it is taken down by a musical shorthand and written out by an educated musician for the printer.

At an early age Myra rhymed. When about 7 years of age, she printed out in a little album something which ran along like prose, but on reading was found to have both measure and rhyme. Her first printed poem appeared in a Hinsdale paper and was copied into the Chicago Evening Journal and many eastern papers.

Miss Chisholm is slight in figure, her hair is light brown, with a hint of gold, and inclined to fall upon her high, broad forehead in little rings. Her eyes are blue and large and inclined to seriousness rather than to mirth. She is reticent in manner and dignified in dress, but always attracts notice, particularly at the Woman's Press League of Chicago, which she attends in company with her mother. Her ambition now tends toward a volume of stories and verses for children, but her aversion to musical composition has led her friends to hope that she may have a thorough musical education. —Banner of Gold.

Epitaphs Received.
A hundred caskets have been at work to make these verses possible. First of all there had to come many both men and women enough to submit them to the fact that all the women of one generation could not marry, there not being men enough to go round, and polygamy having ceased to exist as a fashionable institution. Then there had to follow a conviction, which took a long time to grow, that these women who seemed to have been left quite out in the cold when marriages were settled might have staid out of their free wills, and that therefore they were not to be judged as those who had been tried and found wanting. But the most potent of all causes lay in new conceptions of what individuality might mean—that individuality which is irrespective of privilege and independent of tie and condition—with a growing belief in the necessity for the development of this individuality and the right of its free expression. Through all the upheavals of homes and societies which have sometimes alarmed us a recognition of what this involves for women, as for men, has been slowly born. The fact of her being married or unmarried weighs little if a woman be equipped in every way for the part she is to play in life.

In a home of her own the spinster gains both the table and the fireside. When presiding over the one or welcoming to the other, she acquires as hostess a certain dignity and suaveness of position which once were supposed to belong only to her married sisters. She becomes, in fact, the dispenser, and in giving she gets her own independence, for there is more in giving, even in the way of hospitality, than we altogether know.

For the working spinster, too, there is another invaluable gain—she gets a place in which to conceal her make-shifts and poverties, all her ups and downs of fortune.

Your possessions, too, will grow. It is a law of life that never fails, that to the things that one has others will always be added. Your possessions will grow also by the hundred unexpected and never failing kindnesses of friends—those kindnesses which are constant factors in all success, and which help to make the richness of all lives. In a material way you will be better off, though you may have spent more money and expended more strength. Your place in life, too, will be better established. You will have a greater number of ties, as well as a recognized position. You will have had greater opportunities for helping other people and find yourself in every way better equipped for all emergencies. —Harper's Bazar.

Defeated by the Women.
B. L. Short, city clerk of Kansas City, Kan., who was a candidate before the Republican primary election for mayor of that city, was beaten in the race on account of a love affair.

Mr. Short has been city clerk for six years and is known as a good official. Many expected him to win easily.

But he didn't. The women beat him. They voted almost solidly against him, and they did it because of his fickleness in love.

The "crime" for which the women voted against Short was a unique one. It seems that he had been attentive to Miss Sadie Parsons for over 13 years and had been engaged to marry her. According to her story, they were to have been married last fall. Mr. Short talked over their engagement and had the date fixed. The second evening thereafter Mr. Short was "quietly married to Mrs. Grace Firestone, who had been divorced from her first husband."

The first intimation Miss Parsons received of her lover's unfaithfulness was from a published notice of the marriage. She was almost beside herself with grief at Short's unfaithfulness and told her story without reluctance.

It proved splendid campaign material for Mr. Short's opponents. The women began talking of it as soon as Short's candidacy was mentioned and did not let up until the polls closed. It proved particularly effective among 120 of Miss Parsons' teacher friends, and it is said they voted solidly against Short. Thirty-five more votes would have elected Short if he could have secured them.

Never in the history of Kansas City, Kan., have the women shown so much interest in an election as they did in this one. The whole feminine population was aroused. Many women went about in hats and bugles and bawled other women to the polls and urged them not to vote for Short.

The defeat of Short opens up a new feature in the women's suffrage female voting scheme. It draws a new element into the political arena and adds more uncertainty to the already doubtful career of the man in politics. If every candidate is opposed by his slighted sweethearts, the path of the would-be officeholder will be a thorny one, indeed, and, as one of the men said yesterday: "It all comes of trusting the women with something that few men can handle properly—the ballot. We'll regret the day we gave it to 'em more than once." —Kansas City Cor. Chicago Inter Ocean.

A few days ago the papers of Reno gave public notice that Dr. Hobbs, the well-known specialist in diseases of the kidneys, had made a discovery which, if his claims could be substantiated, would revolutionize the treatment of kidney diseases in order that the public might be given the benefit of this discovery without cost, they were not only asked, but urged to call at W. Pinniger of this city, and get a trial package of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills.

In this way it would enable every one to form his own judgment as to the value of this medicine. Does any sane man or woman believe for one moment that any physician would dare to so openly challenge public opinion were he not absolutely certain of his ground? Reflect a moment and consider this point carefully.

The avidity with which people from all grades of society, from the elite to the humblest, availed themselves of Dr. Hobbs offer affords some startling figures of the great numbers afflicted with kidney diseases in this section.

THINK OF IT! HUNDREDS OF
of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills were given out at W. Pinniger Pharmacy to applicants in one day, every one of whom was willing to give Dr. Hobbs Pills a fair test.

The free test called for no restriction. Physicians were not barred—in fact, they were welcome—and, as still further proof of this, while the free distribution of samples ended at W. Pinniger's Pharmacy a few days since, the Hobbs Remedy Co., Chicago, Ill., upon application will even now be glad to furnish free to all physicians who have not applied a sufficient quantity of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills to make such tests as in their judgment seems necessary—in fact, the fullest and most searching investigation is most cordially extended to physicians, as well as to the public.

What Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills are Designed and Guaranteed to do.

They soothe, heal and cure any inflammation of the kidneys or bladder. They cure backache.

They cause the kidneys to filter out of the blood all poisons and impurities, whether made in the system or taken in from the outside.

They render sluggish kidneys active. They cause the kidneys to cast out the poison of rheumatism (uric acid), the disease germs of malaria and the plague.

They cause the kidneys to keep the blood pure and clean, and thus prevent neuralgia, headache, dizziness, nervous dyspepsia, skin diseases, eruptions, scales, tetter and rashes.

They cause the kidneys to work steadily and regularly.

They dissolve and cast out brickdust and phosphate deposits and dissolve gravel and calculi in both the kidneys and bladder.

They cure Bright's disease. They cause the kidneys to rapidly rid the system of alcohol and tobacco.

They yield a clear mind, sweet sleep, steady nerve, active bodies, brimful of zest and happiness of living, bright eyes and rosy cheeks, because they keep the blood free from poisons and impurities that would otherwise clog and irritate it.

Healthy kidneys make pure blood. Pure blood makes perfect health. Perfect health makes life worth living.

Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills do this and do it at all times.

THE NEW TARIFF BILL.

The Republicans in the Senate and the Republicans in the House of Representatives do not agree in their remedies for the ills which effect the country. In the last campaign they attributed the general financial and industrial depression to the agitation of the silver cause. Now they tell us it is wholly due to the tariff, and the House by a strict party vote, has decided to meet only twice a week, lest the financial question should be brought up if daily sessions were held.

In the House Dr. Dingley declares that specific and ad valorem duties must be imposed on certain articles, the prices of which can be controlled by trusts. The Republicans of the Senate Finance Committee do not agree with Dr. Dingley, and they have changed his tariff schedules so that he will find difficulty in identifying his bill. The Republican senators, however, are not deterred by fears of the Administration or the Republican majority in the House from asserting their opinions. They have outlined a plan of campaign, which is to keep their bill constantly before the Senate after it is called up on the 18th instant, and pass it before the end of the present fiscal year. It will then be sent to the House and the Senate will refuse to appoint a conference committee if asked by the House to do so, and thus force the House to accept the Senate bill or prolong the contest indefinitely with a prospect of not changing the tariff laws at all.

Representative Grosvenor of Ohio, who is recognized as the mouthpiece of the Administration, declares that the bill as framed by the Senate can never pass the House. However, as Grosvenor is not a prophet or the son of a prophet he may be mistaken. Had he declared that President McKinley would not sign the Senate bill if it was sent to him his utterance might be considered authoritative, but he is not the recognized spokesman of the Republican majority in the House.

The scheme of Speaker Reed to prevent a discussion of the financial question in the House, is very cunningly devised. He will not appoint committees, consequently no bills relating to the monetary question can be discussed.

He has taken the further precaution of preventing the House from holding daily sessions and, as there is not always a quorum present when the House does meet no business can be transacted except by unanimous consent of the members. He rules with a rod of iron, and only one of his partisans, Lowe of New York, has the courage or independence to protest against his tyranny. If the Senate Republicans adhere to the plan outlined by them, Mr. Reed may, before Congress adjourns, wish that he had not at the beginning of the session exercised prerogatives which are too despotic for a government supposed to be conducted by and for the people.

TRANS-MISSISSIPPI COMMERCIAL CONGRESS.

The ninth session of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress will be held in Salt Lake City on July 14th. Every State and Territory west of the Mississippi is expected to be represented by full delegations. Subjects of vast interest to the great West will be discussed and congressional action may be expected on matters endorsed by the congress. No Senator nor Representative from the West will desire to antagonize their States by opposing legislation which the Congress recommends.

As Nevada, according to all reports, is about to start on the up grade, it should be largely represented in the congress. The Governor has appointed ten representative citizens from various parts of the State as delegates to the congress. Each county is entitled to one delegate to be appointed by the executive officers of the county, and each incorporated city in the State is entitled to one delegate to be appointed by the Mayor. The State should have at least a dozen delegates in the congress and a full representation if possible. Those appointed by the Governor should endeavor to attend, and doubtless one more representative citizen from each county can be found who will be willing, for the public good, to make the trip to Salt Lake City, which is certain to be one of pleasure, if not of profit.

NO WONDER HE IS DIZZY.

Mark Hanna is realizing some of the effects of public life and the strain on mind and body resulting from the onrush of the army of office-seekers. On Thursday he was seized with an attack of vertigo and while not considered dangerous, his physicians direct a week or two of rest.

No doubt that he has just commenced to realize the thousands of promises made by himself and his lieutenants during the late campaign and likely the horde of prospective beneficiaries of the administration has made him not only dizzy but sick at heart. One can form an idea of what the conditions must be, by simply looking over the clamoring Nevada contingent of the Republican party, and in comparison with other States, considering the population and party vote, it must necessarily be small, yet there are from four to ten candidates for the offices of Surveyor-General, U. S. District Attorney, U. S. Marshal, Superintendent of the Mint and Indian Agents, and for the various postmasterships in the State. The number of applicants run into the hundreds, and in every instance the fellow after the job believes he is on the inside and has a dead thing.

WAR NEWS.

THE GREEK ARMY OUTFLANKED AND DIVIDED.

A Decision Against Strikers—An Electrical Storm.

VALESTINO, May 8.—The Greeks have evacuated Volo. Detachments of marines have landed from the British, Russian, French, Austrian and German warships to guard the town. Foreign consuls have arrived to confer with Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander. As this dispatch is being sent the Turkish troops are entering Volo. The Greeks who fled to Almyros will rejoin the main body of the Greek forces at Domokos.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 8.—Edhem Pasha has telegraphed to the Porte: "After a fierce battle a considerable force of Greeks at Valestino was utterly routed. We captured the town and afterwards captured the strategic points surrounding Relaftepa, on the road to Volo. Our victorious army is now marching on this town."

ATHENS, May 8.—A dispatch from Arta says that Fand Bey, the Turkish commander, through a Greek priest at Arta, issued a proclamation to the Christian population, ordering them to lay down their arms, as otherwise their villages would be burned. The environs of Hanja, in Turkish territory, are burning.

Municipal Officers in a Quandary.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—How the City Board of Supervisors is to pay the remainder of the city's expenses during the balance of the fiscal year was a question under discussion to-day at a joint meeting of the supervisors and the heads of municipal departments. The city officials were appealed to for aid by the supervisors in the way of suggestions for reductions in expenses, but all the heads of departments said that not a single subordinate could be spared, and no relief in the form of a decreased staff or salary was admitted possible. Mayor Phelan will personally conduct an investigation to see what saving can be effected. The estimated deficiency exceeds $100,000.

A Federal Judge Decides Against Strikers.

CLEVELAND, O., May 8.—A knockout blow to the strikers of the Consolidated Steel Company was delivered by Judge Sage of the United States Circuit Court this morning. He allowed the temporary injunction against them to stand. Judge Sage maintained that the proof was conclusive that violence had been done by men in the employ of the company. He said that the Mill Workers' Union was the fountain head of the trouble, and that it was clear that the strikers interfered with the lawful rights of the company. Since the temporary injunction was granted the company had not been molested.

Struck by Lightning.
SPOKANE, WASH., May 8.—The news has reached here of an electrical storm which occurred near Chewelah, Wash., Thursday, in which two girls were badly injured. They were returning from school and took refuge under a large pine tree. A bolt of lightning struck the tree and the girls were knocked senseless and badly burned, but will probably recover. Several others were knocked down and three head of cattle killed.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

The New York racing season opened yesterday under auspicious circumstances in point of weather and candidates for first place in racing events.

At noon yesterday Brigadier and Brevet Major General Wheaton retired from the army, having reached the age of 63 years, of which 47 has been spent in the service.

N. W. Nelson of Richmond, Va., aged 77, President of the Metropolitan Bank of Richmond, was found dead in his bath room this morning with the gas turned on. He had been a great sufferer.

Kellogg Beach, a retired capitalist of Chicago, committed suicide yesterday in the bathroom of his home by shooting himself in the mouth. Despondency over ill health is supposed to have been the cause.

Passenger train No. 5 from the east, on the Santa Fe railroad, due at Pueblo, Col., at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, went through a bridge over the Arkansas river at Lamar at 3 A. M. Two tramps were injured, one suffering a broken arm and the other a fractured leg. The engineer had a rib broken. Flood undermined the foundation of the bridge.

Tailor Made Costumes.

It is a thing to be thankful for that the trim, simple, elegant tailor costume never goes out of fashion. Its minor details and features may vary from year to year, the skirt grow fuller or narrower, the coat longer or shorter, but the general idea remains. Through all the changes and changes the sensible fundamental principle is left unaltered. This season the coat is very short and smart in effect, but a trifle longer than those of the past winter, only in certain materials and for certain figures. The spring and summer skirt models are almost, if not absolute perfection in their lengths, varied shapes and modified widths, and for utility gowns—shopping, traveling, cycling, etc.—serge and mohair remain the favored materials. If there was ever a time in the history of dress when women might be content with what they have it is now, when fashion has reached the some of all that is graceful, normal and harmonious in outline, coloring and effect. All this is beautifully illustrated in the great domain of dress. In millinery we behold at present the most hideous, startling models, exhibited in every shop window and fashionable emporium, that are tangible expressions and proofs of deplorable and astonishing French dementia worthy the close consideration and study of brain specialists.—New York Post.

The Poke Bonnet.

An interesting element in the general plan of constructing the fabric of fashion in spring is the tendency to effect a revival of some old style, and each season the poke bonnet is vigorously launched and as promptly and vigorously rejected, so it rarely leaves the seclusion of the milliner's shop. But this season, no doubt, an extra effort will be put forth to make it popular in honor of the queen's jubilee. The old poke bonnet of 1887 is about as ugly and unbecoming a piece of headgear as it is possible to imagine, and the modern woman has no desire to hide her wealth of waved hair in its depths, but the English fashion writers assure us that the poke bonnet in the hands of a modern artist is a charming possibility even in 1897. In shape it is almost exactly like the one the queen wore the year of her accession to the throne, and it is fine black straw, with a wreath of pink roses around the face inside of the brim. An aggrate of white ostrich feathers trims one side. White moire ribbon passes around the crown, where it is fastened with rhinestone buckles, and ties in a big bow under the chin.

Phoebe Cousins.

Phoebe Cousins, the lifelong advocate of woman's suffrage, has been brought from California to St. Louis, stricken with rheumatism beyond hope of recovery. Speaking of her work for woman's suffrage, Miss Cousins said: "Three times I have seen women under fire and as many times I have seen them fall, and that ignominiously. I presume this will be locked upon as treason, but the conclusion is reached from long experience, close observation and rare opportunities such as have been accorded to few women."

"Moreover, I look upon the outside life, impelled by necessity, as in a majority of cases to be simply experimental. It cannot be conclusive, for the vast majority of women prefer the quiet domestic life, while man by nature seeks the conflicts of the outer world and its theories and grows therein. Woman in public life will never prove satisfactory. She is naturally a homekeeper. I would advise all young women to marry and become housekeepers."

Handering a Saint.

"Fifteen years ago," said the aged brother, addressing the congregation, "I gladly gave my heart to the Lord. And that's the only cheerful gift he ever made," whispered the deacon whose business it was to collect the annual subscriptions.—Indianapolis Journal.

The Viavi Cause.

It is impossible to take Viavi into the system without benefit. It is purely vegetable and as a nerve and tissue builder has no equal. It can be used with perfect safety by the most delicate, and is used upon the smallest children.

Patrons of the remedy can consult our physicians free of charge. I will take pleasure in explaining its various uses to all who may call.

Regimental Orders No. 4.

The following orders have been issued from the regimental headquarters of the First Regiment, N. N. G.:

HEADQUARTERS

FIRST REGIMENT, N. N. G.,
VIRGINIA, Nev., May 1, 1897.

Regimental Orders No. 4.

1. Company commanders will forward to these headquarters reports of official target practice required by law, on the day following such practice.
2. The attention of company commanders is called to the great importance of having every member of their respective commands fully instructed in the use of the rifle at the prescribed ranges, extending no one from practice, except for physical disability or absence from the county.

By order of
F. O. LORD, Colonel.

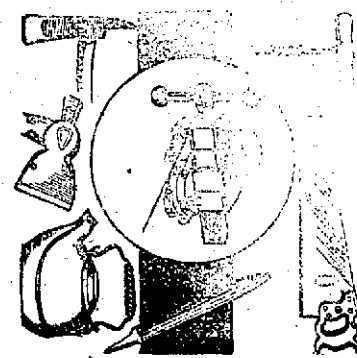

B. G. HAAS, Captain and Adjutant.
The above orders will be strictly enforced, and members of Company G, N. N. G., will govern themselves accordingly. The target range has been put in condition, and it is expected that the members will be at the Armory at 10:30 A. M. or at the range between the hours of 11 A. M. and 2 P. M. on Sunday.

By order of
W. O. WRIGHT,
Captain Co. C.

Dr. Stubbs was chosen President of the Memorial Day exercises. The orator and other officers of the day have been selected, but have not as yet notified the committee that they would accept, but it is presumed that everything will be arranged by the first of the week.

Greenback and Treasury notes are redeemable in gold or silver coin at the option of the Secretary of the Treasury. Secretary Gage, like his predecessors, Carlisle, Foster and Windom, prefers to issue bonds and run the country in debt to redeeming any Government obligation in standard dollars, and Congress will not compel him to protect the people.

Colonel Snowden of Philadelphia, who was United States Minister to Greece for a term, declared upon the authority of Dr. Lipsins of Berlin, that the Turks have massacred 100,000 Armenians, pillaged 568 churches and compelled the inhabitants of 282 towns and villages to embrace Mohammedanism in the last two years. Europe holds Turkish bonds, however, and upholds the Moslems in perpetrating outrages.

THE LAST OF THE BUFFALOES.

An Appeal to the Government to Save Them.

Buffalo Jones of Oklahoma is in Washington endeavoring to get the Interior Department to corral and save from destruction the last of the buffaloes. He says all of these animals now in a wild State are in the Yellowstone Park, and they do not exceed thirty in number. If they are to be saved they must be gathered at once and protected, as the game in the Park has been mercilessly slaughtered in the last two years and the Superintendent of the Park has abandoned all hope of saving a buffalo.

Mr. Jones is an authority on the subject of buffaloes, and has taken pains to preserve a small herd of the animals on his ranch in Oklahoma. He takes a great interest in the matter and knows as much about the habits and numbers of the animals as any person living, and unless his advice is taken and acted upon at once the buffalo may become extinct.

Within the memory of many persons who crossed the plains in their youth the Platte Valley in Nebraska and the uplands which skirt the valley were black with buffaloes. Sometimes great herds of the ponderous beasts approached dangerously near the camps of the immigrants, and thousands of them were wantonly shot down, as their flesh in the early summer, when immigrants traveled up the Platte, was unfit for food, and their hides, which late in the fall made excellent carriage robes, were worthless in the spring. Now, according to authentic reports, there are only a very few of the animals at large and unless the Government protects those few there will not be one of them alive at the close of the century.

Accidentally Shot Himself

Last Wednesday about noon, George Shaber, son of B. M. Shaber, met with a distressing accident at the old Jack O'Brien ranch. George was on horseback, riding over the ranch, and was carrying a 22 caliber rifle. In opening the gate the rifle fell and was accidentally discharged on account of the hammer striking a rail of the gate. The bullet struck the boy just over the heart, squarely on the fifth rib, along which it traveled to lodge in his back. George did not know that he had been struck by the bullet for some twenty minutes after the accident had happened. He came to town on horseback and the bullet was extracted by Dr. Jackson, who says the wound is not serious and that the patient will soon be well. The bullet was flattened by striking the rib and the wound is rather painful. Had the bullet struck the fraction of an inch up or down from where it did the wound would have been fatal.—Dispatch.

Water Company Election.

The annual meeting of the Reno Water, Land and Light Company was held yesterday. Chas. Kaiser, H. M. Gorham, Oscar J. Smith and W. L. Bechtel were elected Trustees for the ensuing year. C. C. Powning was re-elected President and General Superintendent; Chas. Kaiser, Vice-President; W. L. Bechtel, Secretary; Washoe County Bank, Treasurer.

After the improvements now being made by the company are completed, it is the intention to introduce the Holly system as a further improvement, and auxiliary to and a part of the present system. The pump, which has already been ordered, will be attached to the new electric light power plant and the water pumped from the bed of the river opposite the Poor ranch direct into the Highland ditch, and from thence to the main city reservoirs, is about two miles long.

Marvelous Results

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamonddale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store. Regular size, 50 cts. and $1.

Challenge Accepted.

The Corona Baseball Club of Reno has received notification of the acceptance of their challenge sent to the Nevada Star Club of Virginia. The game will be played at the University grounds next Saturday afternoon and it is expected that it will be an interesting contest from beginning to end. It will be remembered that the Nevada Stars is the club that played the Alerts at San Francisco something over a year ago for the Examiner trophy, so the club has more than a local reputation.

C. H. Colley reports having caught twenty-four pounds of trout yesterday and landed one with a fly rod that weighed seven and a half pounds.

The levee broke at Burton's sawmill below Baton Rouge yesterday afternoon. The break is thirty feet wide. It is thought that the crevasse will be closed.

Henry Rater's lunch to-day will comprise many delicacies and there will be no limit. A hungry or thirsty man will find all he desires from 11 o'clock until 2 P. M.

Sunderland's quartette of clerks was entertained at a banquet last evening by Tassel's popular clerk, Frank Coffin. The menu was confined to wernerwurst sausages and weak tea.

J. M. Stark and A. E. Hutchinson quarreled about a hat at the Soldier's Home near Los Angeles. Stark struck Hutchinson in the eye and knocked him down. Hutchinson died in a short time. Both men were imbeciles and not responsible for their actions.

The Turks outnumber the Greeks at the ratio of about three to one, and seem to be drowning them in the last ditch. The crescent now floats at Pharealos as well as at Larissa, and unless the Powers intervene Greece may again become a Turkish province until another Marco Bozaris arises to lead the Hellenes to victory. The Turks are no braver than the Greeks, but they are far more numerous.

More gold shipments were made from New York to Europe yesterday. The yellow bars were taken direct from the Government assay office to the steamer. It is a pretty state of affairs to have the United States Government acting in the capacity of collector for the gold kings of Europe, and issuing interest-bearing bonds for metal to supply the foreign demand. Mark Hanna has declared that it shall be so, however, and his word is law at the White House and in Congress.

B. Wells Prindle and C. W. Brier, the two young Sacramentos representing Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson, went trout fishing in the Truckee yesterday. Brier sat on the bank of the river and smoked his silver-mounted pipe, while Prindle fished. Suddenly Prindle told his companion he had a bite and Brier hurried to his assistance, and after some labor they pulled out of the river a wagon tire and were astonished on finding the name of the firm they represented stamped upon the iron.

Mark Hanna has succumbed to the office seekers. He withstood the cartoons of Davenport and the assaults of those who are opposed to allowing Great Britain to dictate the financial policy of the United States, but the place hunters were too much for him. They swarmed about the great dispenser of Federal pup, like flies around a molasses cask in August, and the continual din gave him the apoplexy. He is going to Cleveland, not the late President, but the city, to recuperate.

Now the air ship has made its appearance at the Centennial Exposition grounds at Nashville, Tenn. A. Bernard, physical instructor at the Young Men's Christian Association at Nashville, is the inventor of the ship, and sailed fifteen miles with the machine from the grounds. The ship is no longer a phantom, but a reality as its ascent was witnessed by thousands who were attending the exposition. The air cleaver is forty-six feet long and twenty feet wide and it sailed fifteen miles in an hour.

An Offer to Prospectors

Brooks McLane, who has located a number of claims on what is known as the "Green Mountain" in the Olinghouse gold district, as well as at various other points, offers to deed one-half of his locations, except those on the "Green Mountain," to any prospector who will go to work with the intention of developing or encouraging development. He will not even ask what has been discovered, but will take his chances with them. He also offers to give any part of his water supply to any individual or company without cost, that has the interest of the camp in view and will go ahead with the construction of an ore reducing plant. He says that fuel is abundant and he believes the ore to be free milling.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters. Fifty cents and $1 per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

"When The Swallows Homeward Fly."

A number of persons noticed the first swallows of the season yesterday and as they flitted to and fro chirruping merrily and looking for their nests of a year ago or trying to find places under the eaves of barns and houses to build new ones, they attracted more or less attention and were the subject of such comments as "the swallows have come and they are the sure harbingers of spring;" "now for settled weather, the swallows have come home again." Other remarks of a similar character were made concerning the merry little birds, and a few old chaps even grew romantic and their eyes had a gleam of liquid love (or beer) in them as they thought of younger and happier days when they twined May posies in their best girl's hair and quietly told her how the swallows mated in the spring. Thus the talk went on until Judge Webster, more practical and philosophical and long past the years of silly romance, came along and joined a group and quietly listened to the conversation. Finally he broke in with "that's all right boys, but to tell you the truth those little birds know what they are at. There is no sentimental nonsense about them. They are here purely for business and are making hay while the sun shines. Why talk about mating in the spring, I have known the most of these birds for thirty years and they have been running together, keeping house together and raised families in this country during that period and I never knew of one of them to apply for a divorce. Furthermore I have observed that they never fail to arrive here between the 8th and 10th of May, not varying a single day either way in their arrival. Bah, nonsense boys, those birds know what they're about." With this the Judge moved on and one of the boys mumbled "I pass."

A Well-Known Young Man

Mr. Ed. Lachman is one of the best known young men in Reno. The following statement will explain itself:

"Reno, September 4, 1896.

"On Saturday last, while wheeling down the steep grade beyond the Mount House, I had a fall which severely strained the muscles and tendons about my right hip and so bruised my knee that it was swollen, discolored and painful to the touch. That evening I procured a bottle of Trib and applied it. The next day I could walk and ride easily, and after using Trib twice a day for four consecutive days I was completely cured. I never before knew the value of a good liniment. I shall not be without a bottle of Trib hereafter. Use my name if you see fit. Trib is a good article, the knowledge of which I am willing to aid in spreading."

EDMUND D. LACHMAN.

The above was written to the Trib Company eight months ago. Mr. Lachman says that the cure has proved permanent, and that many of his acquaintances have to his knowledge used Trib with advantage.
